Welcome

January 15, 2016

Dear CPI Riders, Parents, Trainers, Sponsors and Participants:

I'm delighted to welcome each of you to the 6th Annual College Preparatory Invitational Horse Show (CPI) at the Jim Brandon Equestrian Center in Palm Beach, Florida.

Our 6th year has brought many exciting developments to our organization including an expansion to the West Coast, where we will host an additional CPI Horse Show from March 11-13 at the Los Angeles Equestrian Center in Burbank, California.

We strive though the CPI program to create an event where student riders can learn about various college equestrian programs, meet and learn from experts in the industry and experience firsthand what it's like to participate in a collegiate format horse show. Our goal is to provide a friendly, resource-rich environment that is designed to educate student riders so they can pursue the best collegiate experience for themselves.

Our CPI Scholarship and Educational Fund gives back to student riders in the CPI program by awarding scholarships in five areas: CPI Essay Contest, CPI Champion of Service Award, CPI Written Horsemanship Test, CPI High Point Hunt Seat Equitation Rider Champion, and the CPI Journalistic Photo Contest Winner. Our CPI Junior Ambassadors help to fund this program through their annual fundraising efforts and we thank them for their hard work this year on behalf of the CPI.

We are grateful for the support of our many sponsors who share in our desire to support these young equestrians in their pursuit of a higher education. Their generosity ensures that students leave the weekend's competition with much more than a ribbon for their efforts.

We wish the best of luck to all of our student riders and a heartfelt thank you to the many parents and trainers who support these children and their dreams. They are the future of our sport.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Martin
President

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

I began riding at the age of nine but have never owned a horse. In my first ever horse show in 2010 I got thrown off in warm ups, got the breath knocked out of me and ripped my jacket. A fellow barnmate gave me her jacket to wear so I could still compete. I actually won champion in one class and reserve champion in the other. It was a rough start to what has since been a great show career. In 2011 I won every 2' medal round of the Dallas Hunter Jumper Scholarship Circuit. In 2012 I won 3rd place in my first ever Hunter Derby. My 2012 show season was cut short by a rash of horse injuries. But despite showing less than half the season I still earned enough points to finish 5th for the season in 2'6" Equitation. I also won the DHJSC Sportsmanship Award in 2012. In 2013 I began training at Summer Hill Farms and became a member of their inaugural IEA team. IEA seemed like a logical choice since

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

I don't own a horse. It has proven to be quite challenging and very rewarding. I feel that I'm fortunate to be able to ride and show on so many different horses of all sizes and skill sets. I competed in the varsity intermediate class in 2013. I qualified for and won Zone 7 finals held at West Texas A&M. In 2014 I competed in IEA Open Varsity division and won the zone 7 regional finals Open Varsity Championship Class. I have recently started assisting in training a very green horse, twister, who lost one eye in a tornado. I look forward to one day showing her off to everyone of how truly fabulous she really is. I aspire to compete at the collegiate level in either the NCEA or IHSA after graduation.

The CPI Junior Ambassadors are a select group of students that serve the junior equestrian community by raising funds to support The CPI Horse Show Scholarship and Educational Fund and by building awareness among student riders about the educational, competition, and scholarship opportunities available to college bound students at the CPI Horse Show. CPI Junior Ambassadors are important members of the CPI not-for-profit organization and share with their community the 3 T's that define volunteerism: TIME, TALENT, or TREASURE.

CPI Junior Ambassador Program members are afforded the opportunity to earn community service hours by hosting fundraising events for the CPI Horse Show Scholarship Fund. For Junior Ambassadors that live close to the CPI Horse Show venue, the opportunities to learn, practice, and improve their personal skills are also available through volunteer service work at the CPI event. The CPI Junior Ambassador Program depends on the service and commitment of its members, providing many tangibles that cannot easily be qualified. It takes time, talent, and treasure to organize successful fundraisers. In an effort to put a community service hour value to the dollars raised by CPI Junior Ambassadors, the founders drew up this formula: Ambassadors will receive 1 community service hour for the first $25 raised. Each additional increment of $15 raised will earn the Ambassador an additional service hour.

Criteria for Membership

All students up to grade 12 may join the program; students do NOT have to be equestrians to be a member of the CPI Junior Ambassador Program. Volunteer at or initiate a CPI Junior Ambassador fundraising activities. Ambassador will serve as representative and spokesperson of the CPI Horse Show and Scholarship Fund and shall be appropriately dressed when fundraising, distributing educational material, or performing volunteer work for the CPI.
